

the
vanishings

& other poems

A black and white photograph of a nude person lying on their back on a sandy dune in a desert landscape. The person is positioned in the lower right foreground, with their body angled towards the left. The dune they are lying on slopes upwards from the bottom left towards the top right. The background shows a vast, hazy desert landscape with rolling hills and a clear sky. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

Elizabeth Myhr